PIEDMONT COLLEGE

YONAHIAN

VOLUME 79

FALL 1998 - SPRING 1999

President W. Ray Cleere

.....

Dear Students:

Each school year has its own character and is remembered for different things. This academic year will certainly be remembered for the major changes that have taken place here on the main campus in Demorest. New buildings that have either been completed this year or that are now under construction are transforming the campus and will play an important role in Piedmont's future during the new century.

Along with the addition of a new dormitory, major construction projects include the new science, math and technology center; a new athletic complex; and renovation of the fourth floor of Daniel Hall to house the new school of nursing. This year we enrolled the largest freshman class ever at Piedmont, and for these students we have added new academic opportunities, including new degree programs in nursing and religion and a new master's degree for public administration. At the Athens Center, we also added a second building this year that doubles the size of our academic space for off-campus programs.

Piedmont is an institution with great pride and spirit, and with every passing school year it becomes more than a small liberal-arts college in northeast Georgia. Every year I am convinced that the previous academic year could never be surpassed, and always I am proved wrong. This year has been no exception. I take great pride in watching each new class of students work to fulfill their academic goals, working with faculty who truly care about the minds of their students.

To the graduates of 1999, I hope that all of you will return frequently to your alma mater to see how your college fares in the next century. While there may be new buildings to admire, I think you will always be able to recognize that old Piedmont spirit in the faces of the students who follow in your footsteps.

W. Ray Cleere
President
Piedmont College

Hymn to the Alma Mater

Verse 1

*Where the Georgian hills grow purple
In the sunset glow,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
In the vale below.*

Refrain

*Green and Gold float on for aye,
Old Piedmont for thee,
We, thy loyal sons and daughters
Bless thy memory.*

Verse 2

*As around the mighty oak tree
Clings the ivy vine,
So around thee, dear old Piedmont
Loyal hearts entwine.
(Refrain)*

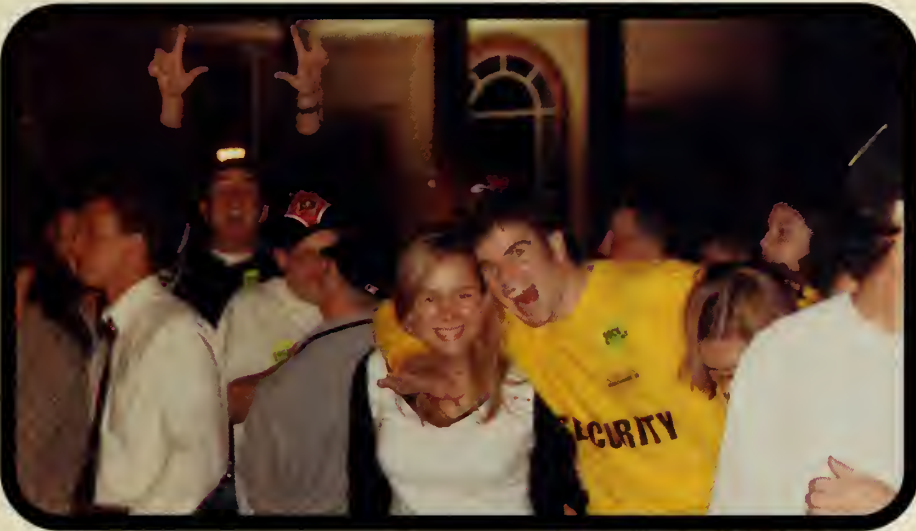

Verse 3

*Here's to thee, then, dear old Piedmont
May you ever stand
As an emblem of the noblest
In our fair Southland
(Refrain)*

Orientation '98

*P*iedmont's Admissions staff organized another successful orientation weekend. The 1998 orientation consisted of three days of fun-filled activities which gave over 100 freshmen the opportunity to experience student life at Piedmont. Students not only interacted with faculty and staff, but they also enjoyed such activities as a video talent show, laser tag, and team competitions which all served to build group cohesiveness among the freshmen.

The 1998 Homecoming festivities were filled with a week's worth of activities which involved the entire Piedmont College community. Faculty, staff, and students participated in such activities as dress as your favorite professor day, hillbilly day, pajama day, and the parade. Student clubs also provided various activities in Centennial Alumni Park. This year's main attraction, other than the Homecoming dance, was the anticipated performance of Memory Dean, a popular Atlanta band. Homecoming 1998 will certainly be a memorable moment in Piedmont's history.

Dinner On

The Quad

As a part of this year's Homecoming festivities, students were served dinner in Alumni Centennial Park where they enjoyed sun, food, and great conversation.

Matt Ernest and Tim Martin enjoy a plate of lasagna served by Wallace Hall resident assistants.

As an activity to build a stronger sense of community among the dormitory students, R.A.s in each of the four residence halls served a progressive dinner consisting of one of the four courses of a meal. The R.A.s in Getman Babcock Hall served appetizers, salad in Purcell Hall, the main course in Wallace Hall, and desert was served in Alumni Park by the R.A.s in student houses.

Jason Haka helps himself to desert.

Piedmont's 1998 haunted house was a success once again. Residents from each hall contributed to one of Piedmont's most publicized community service projects. Children from the community enjoyed Getman-Babcock decorations.

Yonabian Dedication

Mr. C.T. Davis

Dr. Bradford and C.T. prepare for a Piedmont function in the chapel.

C.T. shares holiday cheer with Dr. Lane.

C.T. helping with other Piedmont College business.

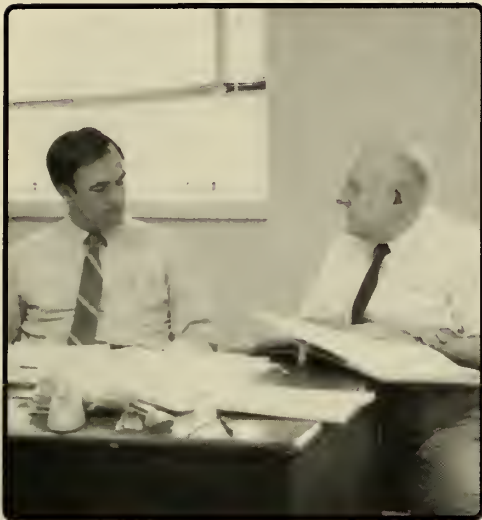

Answering questions and helping with your problems, C.T. is at your service.

Charles Thomas Davis, fondly known as C.T. of Demorest, has played an integral role in Piedmont College's history. He graduated in 1973 from Piedmont with a Bachelor of Arts in business administration and accounting. As a student C.T. not only participated in work study, but he was also a member of the Student Government and the yearbook staff. In addition to these extracurricular activities, C.T. was Resident Director of Purcell Hall.

After graduating, C.T. continued working in the business office as a bookkeeper and cashier. Since 1991, C.T. has worked in the library as a technical support assistant. We hope to keep his library expertise for many more years.

Currently, C.T. is involved in Piedmont's Alumni Association and the American Association of University Women. Further, he continues to enjoy helping others and spreading great cheer among Piedmont's faculty, staff, and students.

In appreciation of many years of hard work and dedication to Piedmont, the Piedmont College family proudly dedicates this year's annual to Charles Thomas Davis. From all faculty, staff, and students, we say "Thank you."

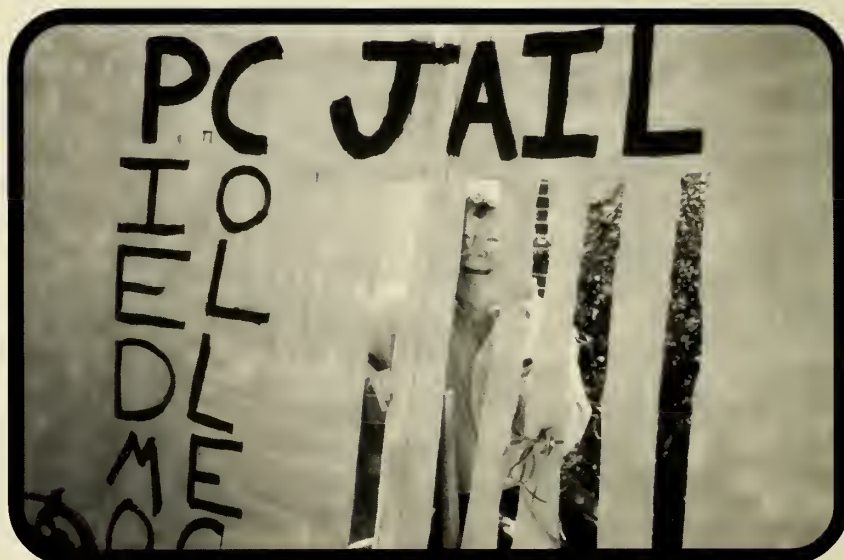

C. T. cooperates on Piedmont projects.

Displaying their muscular physiques, Dr. Lytle, Dick Martin, and Dave Nardone show the professionals how it should be done.

Piedmont College Radio Stations

WRFP AM 530 was established in 1994 by the Piedmont College Theater Department. During the Spring semester of 1995, Dr. Janice Moss became the radio station faculty advisor. Since its establishment, WRFP AM 530 has expanded its operations to include more programming options for students and the Piedmont College community.

In 1998, WRFP AM 530's radio equipment was upgraded to include analog and digital audio systems. The station currently has over $11,000 of analog and digital sound equipment. As a result of the upgrade, the new equipment enhanced the quality and amplification of the station's signal on campus.

WRFP AM 530 is operated by students who have declared Mass Communication as their minor field of study. While school is in session, these students participate in live broadcasts of campus news, sports, and national news stories Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

W R F P A M 5 3 0

Moss was inspired by WPPR 88.3 FM, Piedmont College's new National Public Radio Station. WPPR 88.3 FM began broadcasting in December 1996. Moss received numerous telephone calls from WPPR listeners who were very interested in finding out more about Piedmont and/or the Mass Communication program.

As a result of the enthusiastic responses, Moss submitted a proposal for a minor in Mass Communication. The proposed minor offered an attractive program of study for students majoring in a number of academic disciplines. In March 1998, the faculty unanimously approved the proposal.

Moss was instrumental in implementing internship opportunities for students preparing for a career in communications. Currently, Moss is establishing a curriculum for a major in Mass Communication. Assisting Moss with the technological component of the program is Dr. Betsey Blakeslee, a new faculty member. Overall, Moss's vision for this new program is to help bring the world together through technology.

Michelle Milone, the recipient of this year's outstanding student broadcasting award, demonstrates how she operates the radio equipment.
